The attendance has been better than heretofore. The Nation will select five boys and five girls from the academy, the most advanced scholars, and send them at the expense of the Nation to the States to finish their education. Of those selected, two are at Shurtliff College, three at Booneville, Mo., two at Columbia, Mo., one at Paris, Texas, one at Nashville, and one at Abingdon, Va.

The Commissioner of Indian Affairs has received the following dispatch to-day from Walter P. Janney, geologist exploring the Black Hills, dated Camp on Rapid creek, September 29th: "I have discovered gold in small quantities in the Bear Lodge Mountains, about twenty miles east of the Little Missouri buttes, in the northwestern portion of the Black Hills. The field is limited in area, not exceeding fifty square miles, and is wholly in Wyoming, being separated from the region about Harney's Peak by the Red Water Valley. The gold is derived from the decomposition of ledges of feldspar porphyry, carrying oxides of iron and manganese, no quartz being found in the region, and the deposits, as far as examined, are gravel bars of limited area, near the head of the mountain streams flowing in belts from the river. I have nearly completed the work of the survey, and expect to reach Fort Laramie on my return about October 15th."

THE PORK BUSINESS.

National Convention of Pork Packers at St. Louis.

Special Correspondence of Pittsburgh Commercial.

ST. LOUIS, October 5, 1875.

The pork packers of the West assembled in University Hall, in this city, to-day, at ten o'clock A. M. Mr. McEnnis, of St. Louis, called the convention to order and said:

Gentlemen, Pork Packers of the United States: It is my pleasant duty, in the name of the St. Louis Pork Packers' Association, to welcome you to our city and home. During your stay with us, it is our desire to make you comfortable and happy. Should we by any oversight or neglect fail in our duty, we hope you will not hesitate to call our attention to the fact. If you do we promise to make amends. We hope this convention may be able to lay the foundation of a permanent organization, that will harmonize all the conflicting interests of our trade, and throw such light on the future as will enable each of us to guard against a recurrence of the losses of the past season. Thanking you for your attention, I again bid you welcome.

Mr. McEnnis said that the first business in order would be to receive nominations for Temporary President. George F. Davis, of Cincinnati, was nominated, and unanimously elected to that position. Frank Howard was elected Temporary Secretary. On taking the chair, Mr Davis made a very interesting speech, which was, doubtless, instructive to those engaged in the pork packing business. He began by speaking of the usefulness of the pork men's organization. He knew of no body of men who had greater need of organization than the pork men of the country. Their interests were very large and important, and extended, not only over the American continent, but over the nations of Europe. The Eastern countries were unable to feed themselves, and he did not see where they were to procure the necessary supply but from the West. We could feed the world, and the pork packers should recognize the fact, and keep up an organization which would materially advance the interests of the trade and benefit the consumers. Mr. Davis went on to describe the wonderful undeveloped resources of the Northwest, and pointed out that pork was much easier to concentrate than corn. He paid a great compliment to Chicago, proverbial for its modesty and enterprise. In comparison with that city, St. Louis was like a boy who lacked courage to make himself known. The latter city, however, taking pattern from Chicago, has made a start forward, and if she only follows close enough in the footsteps of that city, will make herself a prominent city. Mr. Davis concluded by thanking those present for the honor conferred on him.

A committee of one from each State was appointed on credentials. While the committee was out Mr. Harrison, of Indiana, said: "In order to facilitate business, I suggest that a Business Committee of one from each State be appointed, to report a plan to get from each packing point and house correct information, relating to the comparative, relative and actual amount and condition of hogs in each packing district." After considerable discussion, during which Mr. Adams, of Quincy, made a very strong, sensible speech in reference to their business, past, present and prospective, the Committee on Credentials made a partial report, stating that a large number of delegates would arrive to-day and to-morrow morning, and requested to be continued until to-morrow at nine o'clock. The request was granted, and the convention adjourned to meet on board the harbor boat Elon G. Smith, for the purpose of visiting the stockyards in the vicinity of this city.

Nearly all the members of the convention met on board of the Elon G. Smith at two o'clock, and proceeded up the river to the Union Stock Yards. After going through many of the different departments, we proceeded to the "Stock Yard Hotel," where the very best refreshments, in great abundance, were set before us. Since I have been traveling I can say that I never have enjoyed a better banquet than I had on that occasion, and in saying this, I only repeat the general verdict of those present. When we had concluded our repast, several short speeches were made complementing those engaged in preparing our feast. When we returned to the boat, she backed out and in a short time landed us on the Illinois side of the river. When we ascended the bank we found a special train waiting to convey the party across the great bridge and through the immense tunnel. On our way down the Illinois shore we stopped to examine the National Stock Yards, which are eleven hundred and eighty feet long and one hundred wide; it is divided into about seventy-five compartments, all of which are kept clean, there being abundance of water in each. The Allerton House stands at the southeast corner of the yards, in which we were again supplied with refreshments. After passing through the avenues of the yards, we again boarded the train and passed over the bridge, and returned to our hotels tired by the exercises of the day.

There were one hundred and twenty members present to-day, and more are expected to-morrow. A large majority of those now here are men above forty years old. Their bronzed faces, active movements and vigorous bodies indicate very plainly that they have lived beyond the corporate lines of large cities.

Second Letter.

ST. LOUIS, October 6, 1875.

The Pork Packers' Convention met in University Hall at ten o'clock this morning, pursuant to adjournment. The Temporary President, George F. Davis, of Cincinnati, called the members to order, and said that the first business before the convention would be the reception of the report of the Committee on Credentials. The Chairman of that committee reported the names of the delegates present, so far as the committee had been able to ascertain them, and requested any whose names were not reported to announce themselves and have their names entered on the roll.

Mr. Branon, of Louisville, Chairman of the Committee on Permanent Organization, reported the following names of the permanent officers for the ensuing year. President, J. L. McDonald, of Louisville; Secretary, B. Frank Howard, of Chicago. Mr. McDonald, on taking the chair, said:

Gentlemen: As you will very readily perceive, I am not in a condition to make any extended remarks, as I have contracted a bad cold and am afflicted with a very sore throat. The addresses which we listened to yesterday from Mr. Davis, of Cincinnati, and my old friend Mr. Adams, of Quincy, Ill., were so much to the point, that I could not add anything which would benefit this association, if I were physically in condition to do so.

Mr. McEnnis, of St. Louis, offered the following resolution:

Resolved, That this convention recommend that the Secretary of the association make application to the Secretary of the Treasury of the United States for weekly reports of the exports and imports of provisions in detail, from the principal ports of this country, and give the aggregate return promptly to the public.

The Chairman of the Business Committee read the report of that body, which was taken up by sections, and the first section passed without debate. The second, however, elicited considerable discussion, but was finally adopted. All the sections having been considered, the report was then adopted as a whole.

The following resolutions from the Business Committee were adopted:

Resolved, That this convention indorse and approve the rules and customs now in force throughout the United States governing the provision business.

Resolved, That we urge on the packers and all interested in the provision trade, the necessity of giving full and correct statistical information to the press, so that reliable reports can be made up of the packing, stocks on hand, etc.

Mr. Kirby, of Missouri, presented the following, which was carried:

Resolved, That this association recommend the formation of auxiliary associations in the different States, to carry out the provisions of the constitution; that said auxiliary associations report from time to time, as requested by the board of managers.

Mr. McEnnis said that the merchants of this city would be pleased to have this convention visit the 'Change room. Thanks were accorded to the St. Louis pork packers for the kind welcome the members had received, and the sumptuous manner in which they had been entertained. After some further unimportant business was transacted, the convention adjourned sine die at twelve o'clock M.

Quite a large proportion of the delegates visited the 'Change room. At three o'clock carriages were in waiting, in front of the Lindell Hotel, to convey all the delegates who desired to go, to Shaw's Garden, Lafayette, and Tower Grove Parks. A number availed themselves of the opportunity of visiting those beautiful and interesting places, and returned at six o'clock, delighted with their excursion.

It is now seven o'clock, and, according to the programme, a banquet will be served up to the delegates, at eight o'clock this evening, in the Lindell Hotel. The room in the Lindell, in which the office is located is one hundred and fifty feet long by about fifty wide. Immediately behind the office, and running at right angles from it, is the corresponding room. It is at least seventy-five feet long by about forty wide, both these rooms, the large billiard room, and one in which a young man, of about two hundred and fifty avoirdupois was selling pools on the races which are to come off on the fair grounds to-morrow, were crowded with men, among whom were several Pittsburghers, including General Schoonmaker, Alexander R. Reed and Captain R. C. Gray.

At half-past nine we were invited to the banquet room. When I entered, my eyes were fairly dazzled by the brilliant and profuse display of natural flowers, rendered more beautiful, if possible, by the light of more than a hundred gas burners. The chandeliers were tastefully decorated with festoons of natural leaves and flowers. In the center of the tables were pagodas three stories high, also made of natural flowers, with vines running from story to story. On one of the tables there was a large model of a hog. Instead of bristles its whole exterior was covered with flowers of many hues. On another table was an ocean steamship, also built of flowers, and on other parts of the tables, pyramids, cones, and bouquets, all of flowers, were to be seen, and their sweet fragrance was enjoyed.

I will not attempt any description of what was placed before the three hundred guests who surrounded the tables. Suffice it to say that all were not only satisfied, but delighted with the manner in which the banquet had been gotten up, and the promptness with which they were served, by the brigade of at least fifty well-drilled colored waiters, who disappeared from the room, and entered again, with each course, at the sound of the bell, marching with the regularity of a company of army veterans. During the banquet, a splendid band was discoursing some of the sweetest music it has ever been my good fortune to hear. At eleven o'clock, the President of the St. Louis Pork Packers' Association called for order, and announced that the Hon. E. O. Stannard would deliver the address of welcome, and introduced that gentleman, who made a very acceptable speech. George F. Davis, of Cincinnati, also made an eloquent and amusing speech, in one part of which he said "that the pork packers were temperance men, because they put corn into pork, thereby preventing it from being made into whisky." Hon. W. H. Harvey, of the Pennsylvania Legislature, made a very interesting address. B. S. Harrison, of Indianapolis; James Turner, of Chicago; Mr. Adams, of Quincy, and several other gentlemen made short addresses, which were instructive and some of them very entertaining, and occupied the time until the "Wee sma' hours ayant the twal," when the happy party retired with a sense of fullness in their hearts and stomachs which probably some of them never felt before.

THURSDAY MORNING, October 7.

This morning at ten o'clock, Washington avenue and Fifth street, on either side of the Lindell Hotel, were thronged with carriages and omnibuses, gathered for the purpose of conveying the delegates to the fair. When we reached the grounds we were conducted by H. B. Londerman, Secretary of the St. Louis Pork Packers' Association, to a part of the amphitheater, adjoining the press stand, which had been reserved for us. Its front and sides were gaily decorated with much of the floral display which gave us so much pleasure last night, including the ocean steam vessel, fully rigged, and the floral porcine representative of the most unsociable of all quadrupeds. As you are aware, I have attended quite a number of conventions, and that it has been my business to note their proceedings; and with a recollection of them fresh in my mind I must, in justice to the pork men, say that their arrangements for rendering their guests' visit pleasant, agreeable and instructive were far more extensive than those made by the local members of any convention which I have visited. To sum it all up in a few words, "They went the whole hog."

PRE ELECTION EXCITEMENT—JEFFERSON TO BE THE BANNER COUNTY.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

STEUBENVILLE, October 11, 1875.

There is considerable excitement here to-night in anticipation of the election to-morrow, and everything is in favor of a large vote being polled. The Republicans are confident of an overwhelming majority in the city and county. The Democrats are straining every nerve to elect their county ticket. Both parties have large meetings in progress. The betting is three to two in favor of Hayes, with but few takers. Jefferson county will prove to be the banner Republican county in this election.

GRAND REPUBLICAN RALLY IN EAST LIVERPOOL, OHIO.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

EAST LIVERPOOL, O., October 11, 1875.

The largest political meeting ever held in Liverpool township assembled at this place to-night. The meeting was to have been addressed by Colonel Richard Realf, of the Pittsburgh COMMERCIAL, but owing to his unavoidable absence Peter C. Young, Esq., of Wellsville, and Hon. John A. Campbell, of West Virginia, addressed the meeting. For genuine enthusiasm the meeting has never been equalled in this township. At least three thousand persons were present. Hayes will receive the largest Republican vote ever given in Liverpool township.

BARTLETT DECLINES TO BE SACRIFICED.

NEW YORK, October 11.—The Springfield Republican to-day announces that General Bartlett has declined the nomination for Lieutenant Governor of Massachusetts on the Democratic ticket.

State.

The Republican vote in the lower end of Carbon county will be very largely increased this year from the reports that reach the Mauch Chunk Coal Gazette.

Democratic meetings this year in Pennsylvania are more like funerals than frolics. They are small in point of numbers and woeful in point of enthusiasm.

The year 1876, to which millions are looking with interest, should be marked by the choice, by a free people's vote, of candidates for all stations, high and low, who have never been advocates of slavery or repudiation—who never apologized for wholesale oppression or national dishonesty. To this end, we should commence by electing men of the right stamp this year. That will make it so much easier work the next.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

The Democrats and Liberals of Potter county have nominated the following ticket: Prothonotary—Levi C. Kinner; Register and Recorder—Samuel Haskins; County Commissioners—Almeron Nelson, Charles Grover; County Auditors—George M. Rexford, William Ellis.

We are forced to notice the pretended "investigation" of the Treasury, not because it is important, but the Harrisburg Patriot is guilty of forgery in suppressing the evidence of D. C. Maurer (for nine years chief clerk of the Auditor General's Department), and in distorting the words of Mr. Stehman, of Lancaster. Mr. Maurer swears positively that the vouchers—claimed by the man now occupying his old place, to be "missing"—were in the office when transferred to the present chief clerk. Probably in one of the drunken rough-and-tumble fights between the present chief clerk and his messenger, since the "Reform" element has been installed as the guardian of the vouchers of the State, these vouchers have been kicked out of a window.—Harrisburg Telegraph.

We said in our issue of Saturday that the evidence given in the morning of the previous day, before the State Treasury Investigating Committee, by a clerk of a Lancaster banking house, was important, if true. As we then suspected and intimated, it was not true. Later in the course of Friday's inquiry, J. M. Stehman, Esq., Senior member of the banking firm referred to, appeared before the committee and testified that Mr. Mackey, the present efficient State Treasurer, had "never received a cent of interest from his (Stehman's) company, although he had made several deposits with the bank." He further testified that he had indirectly offered Mr. Mackey compensation for the use of the funds, but Mr. Mackey replied that he had never received any interest from the State's money on deposit, and that he would have none from his (Stehman's) firm. This evidence, from the head of the banking company, not only absolutely refutes and sets aside as worthless the evidence given by a former clerk of the firm, but it also establishes the fact well known to Mr. Mackey's personal friends, though not known to the public, that Mr. Mackey has not received interest upon the State's money deposited by him for safety and convenience in banking institutions. Mr. Mackey has not only been one of the most efficient Treasurers the Commonwealth has ever had, but he has been an honorable one, serving the interests of the people and not his own. —Philadelphia Inquirer.

General.

The New Orleans Republican says: "The letter of Hon. E. John Ellis, and the threats of the Democratic conventionists, give timely warning to the business interest that we are on the eve of another attempt to overthrow the State government."

Uncle William's organs are claiming his election by thirty thousand majority. This happens to be the figure at which they placed Vallandigham's majority, a week before the election in 1863, and he was beaten by Brough over a hundred thousand.—Cleveland Herald.

A special to the Cincinnati Gazette says that E. C. Fields, the Treasurer of Johnson township, Champaign county, left home last Friday, and it has since been ascertained that he is a defaulter to the amount of $2,500. Mr. Fields is a Democrat, and will vote for Allen.

In 1849 there were in the United States six hundred and ninety-eight banks which issued bills. Of these the notes of barely fifty-two circulated at par. Those of the other six hundred and forty-five were circulated at various rates of discount, from one-quarter to thirty per cent. Those were the bright and beautiful days of the Bank Note Reporter. Without that trusty and indispensable guide a man purchasing a breakfast or a pair of boots was liable to pay too much or too little.

Col. Fred. Grant Will Not Resign.

A Pennsylvania Woman's Idea of Soft Money.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 11, 1875.

Colonel Fred. Grant will Not Resign.

It is stated by friends of Lieutenant Colonel Fred. Grant that he will be here this fall to take an active part in the business of the banking house with which he is connected. He does not propose to resign his position in the army for the present, as he will have a year's leave of absence.

A Model Idea of Rag Money.

The Register of the Treasury has received a letter from a female in Lebanon, Pa., to the effect that times are hard and money scarce, and she therefore requests him to send her a nice roll of greenbacks from the Government printing press. She is evidently an inflationist. Mr. Allison, though of a sympathetic nature, is unable to comply with her request.

Suit Against a Real Estate Pool.

Some time ago a suit was instituted in the courts here by the trustee of the Jay Cooke concern against the trustee of what was known here as the real estate pool. The suit was to recover Henry D. Cooke's share of the profits. It is now stated that the matter has been settled and the suit withdrawn. The particulars of the settlement have not transpired.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 11, 1875.

ANOTHER CLAIM FRAUD—SOME PROMINENT OFFICIALS AND CITIZENS THREATENED WITH PROSECUTION.

A special from this city to the New York Times says: The official investigation into the payment of nearly twenty-one thousand dollars to Witowski for logs alleged to have been furnished in 1862 for building forts near Nashville, Tenn., has developed the fraudulent character of that claim and brought to light certain facts damaging to the Third Auditor and Second Comptroller. This claim has been knocking about the Treasury Department for a number of years, and was several times rejected by the Engineer Department of the Army. The records of that department do not furnish any evidence of the validity of the claim, and the Chief of Engineers being morally certain that the materials for which payment was demanded were paid for at the time of delivery, refused to certify the claim to the accounting officers of the Treasury. Upon presentation of the papers to the Third Auditor a long report was prepared in that office, but the Auditor, suspecting its worthless character, declined to indorse it favorably to the Comptroller, but contended himself with referring the claim and the report made in his office to the Comptroller "for decision." This is regarded as a culpable omission of duty on the part of the Third Auditor, as it is clearly his duty, under the statutes, to definitely determine upon the character of all claims referred to him for settlement.

Upon receiving the report of the Auditor the Deputy Second Comptroller, Mr. E. B. Curtis, in the absence of his chief made and signed the following indorsement on the report: "The state of facts as related in the within report appears to be well substantiated by affidavits and other papers on file. The Engineer's Department reports that the returns of Captain Morton show that the property was purchased and not paid for. I concur in the report of the Auditor. An account may be stated for the amount found due." Upon this indorsement of the Deputy Second Comptroller, $20,605 was drawn from the Treasury. Learning of the payment of the claim, Gen. Humphries wrote to the Secretary of War, denouncing it as fraudulent and emphatically protesting against that portion of the Deputy Comptroller's indorsement which referred to the Engineer's Department. General Humphries' letter was referred to the Secretary of the Treasury, an investigation was ordered, and the Solicitor of the Treasury instructed to proceed against the guilty parties. The result of the investigation has been reported to Secretary Bristow, and the following sentence taken from it shows the fraudulent character of the transaction: "The evidence upon which the claim is based was forged and the entire testimony supporting it false." This report places the Third Auditor and Deputy Second Comptroller in a very questionable position in connection with the payment of the claim, and bears out the statements printed in the Times dispatches immediately following its payment about six weeks ago.

From the evidence elicited it appears that Gen. Negley, ex-member of Congress from the Pittsburgh (Pennsylvania) district, was active in securing payment of the claim, using his official position and influence to that end. The fact that Negley was in command of a post near Nashville at the time the logs are alleged to have been furnished, gave additional weight to his pleadings before the accounting officers. One of the reasons urged by Negley to the Third Auditor for payment was that Witowski owed him a large sum of money, and if the claim was allowed he would be able to collect the amount thus due him. This claim bears some resemblance to the notorious Sugg Fort claim, and it is significant that Negley is alleged to have had active connection with that fraud.

The Solicitor of the Treasury has been instructed by Secretary Bristow to prosecute General Negley and McFarland, a lawyer of Washington, who acted as attorneys in prosecuting the claim; James T. Allen, a clerk in the Comptroller's office, who made the indorsement on the papers upon which the money was paid, and Julius Witowski, the principal. Not long since Witowski obtained from the Treasury $90,000 for cotton said to have been destroyed by the Federal army while on his plantation in Carroll parish, La., during the rebellion. The investigation just completed shows that this was also a base fraud. It was paid on the evidence of Louis Pick, who swore he saw the cotton destroyed. Evidence is produced establishing that Pick was in Nashville the very time he swears he was in Louisiana. It is ascertained also that Witowski obtained from the family of Captain Morton, who is dead, papers and vouchers upon which he has been preparing other fraudulent claims for presentation.

THE SUPREME COURT.

The Supreme Court of the United States commenced its October term to-day. All the Justices were on the bench with the exception of Associate Justice Miller. At the instance of Attorney General Pierrepont, the 26th instant was set for the argument of the appeal of the United States from the decision of the Court of Claims, the latter having made a decision favorable to claims of the Union Pacific Railroad, on account of transportation.

FIRE RECORD.

Virginia City—$250,000.

SAN FRANCISCO, October 11.—The hoisting works of the Utah mine, Virginia City, were destroyed by fire last night. The loss is $250,000. The works were recently completed with machinery to sink to a depth of 2,000 feet. The engineer stood at his post and hoisted the miners until he was badly burned. Four men remained below when the engine was abandoned. They escaped through an old shaft.

Adjournment of North Carolina Constitutional Convention.

RALEIGH, N. C., October 11.—The State Constitutional Convention adjourned sine die this evening, after a session of thirty-one working days. In the last few days of the session many important ordinances were passed, amounting to a general emancipation of the Legislature from the restrictions under which it has labored since 1868, and giving it larger powers. The public debt question was not interfered with, several ineffectual attempts being made to repudiate the special tax bonds.

Poor Guibord to be Kept Above Ground Yet Longer.

MONTREAL, October 11.—A gentleman prominently connected with the Guibord case states that no day has been set for the burial of Guibord's remains, and that it is possible it may be deferred for a considerable time.

PRESBYTERIANISM.

Proceedings of the Synod of Erie, in Session at Brookville.

Special Dispatch to the Commercial.

BROOKVILLE, PA., October 10, 1875.

The Presbyterian Synod met in the church yesterday morning at nine o'clock, and opened with prayer for Rev. Dr. Joseph Mateer, Moderator for the ensuing year. Clerks, Rev. Dr. S. J. M. Eaton and Rev. John F. Oxtoby.

The Moderator announced the Standing Committees. There were addresses by Rev. William Speer, in behalf of the Board of Education; Rev. S. C. Farris, in behalf of the Pennsylvania Bible Society; Rev. J. A. Seymour, in behalf of the Board of Publication.

Rev. F. F. Ellinwood made a very brilliant speech in behalf of the Board of Foreign Missions. A number of papers were received and adopted. Among the most important was the one offered by Rev. A. A. Hodges, D. D., in relation to reporting the money collected and donated by our churches to the different boards.

Rev. J. C. Tinesdale closed the morning session with prayer.

The afternoon session opened with prayer by Rev. S. H. Holliday. Rev. James Allison presented the condition and needs of the freedmen, after which came a conference on Sabbath school works. The opening address was delivered by Rev. William M. Taylor. The Synod ordered this address printed for distribution.

Following this were addresses by the different members of the Synod.

The Committee on Bills and Overtures made a lengthy report, which was amended and adopted. The afternoon session adjourned.

THE EVENING SESSION

opened at seven o'clock with prayer by Rev. A. A. Hodges. The narrative of the state of religion, prepared by Rev. D. Z. Junkin, was read by Rev. J. J. Francis. Rev. Sheldon Jackson, of Denver, Colorado, made a powerful speech in behalf of woman's work for home missions. At the close a voluntary contribution amounting to over one hundred dollars was given by Rev. Mr. Jackson.

Indiana, Pa., was chosen as the next place of meeting for the Synod, on the third Friday of October, 1876. The Synod closed with prayer by Rev. A. S. Thorne.

As there was no meeting of the Synod today, the different churches in this vicinity were supplied by visiting ministers. Synodical communion was administered at eleven o'clock this morning. The sermon was preached by Rev. A. A. Hodges. There was a temperance meeting in the church this afternoon, presided over by Rev. B. C. Critchlow, of Greenville, Pa., and addresses delivered by Rev. D. A. Newell, of Sharpsville, Pa., Rev. T. Crowl, of Tionesta, Pa., Elder D. A. Critchlow, of New Brighton, Pa., and Rev. S. C. Farris, of Pittsburgh. The evening services consisted of an address by Rev. Dr. F. F. Ellinwood, Secretary of the Board of Foreign Missions, subject, "The Condition and Claims of our Foreign Missions." The Synod meets again at nine A. M. to-morrow.

B.

BROOKVILLE, PA., October 11, 1875.

The Synod of Erie opened at nine o'clock this morning, with prayer by the Moderator. The Judicial Committee reported that they had no business before them. A paper was offered by Rev. A. Donaldson, on the subject of a Memorial Convention to be held in Pittsburgh in December next. The Synod was invited to attend.

Rev. T. S. Leason brought in the report on the subject of ministerial relief. The Committee on the Board of Foreign Missiod made a report, urging all the churches to take up a special collection to wipe out the present indebtedness. The Committees on Board of Colporteurs, on the Bible Society and on Home Missions brought in interesting reports. The committee appointed to consider the Bible Society cause presented the following resolutions:

First, That the Synod of Erie declare itself in hearty sympathy with the works of Bible distribution as essential to the furtherance of Christ's cause.

Second, That it urges upon the church under its care a hearty co-operation with Rev. S. C. Farris, general agent, and others employed by the Bible Society in its labor, and when a canvass of their committees has been made, to enter upon such canvass by appointed methods as soon as possible, and to this end correspond with the general agent at Pittsburgh.

Third, That the proposed Centennial Exposition at Philadelphia next year is recognized as a most favorable opportunity providentially given to exhibit the claims and the blessings of the Bible to the representatives of all the nations of the earth.

The afternoon session opened with prayer by Rev. J. B. Bittenger. A paper was brought in on the Sabbath question, which elicited great discussion. Sunday papers were handled without gloves. The following resolutions were adopted:

WHEREAS, The running of Sunday trains on the various railroads in our country is on the increase, and especially of pleasure excursion trains; and, whereas, such trains are a desecration of the Lord's day, therefore be it

Resolved, First, That we as a Synod earnestly protest against this action of all railroad companies that order or allow their trains to run on the Sabbath.

Second, That we enjoin upon all members of our churches who are employed by the companies to be careful not to violate the Fourth commandment.

Resolutions of thanks to the citizens of Brookville were unanimously passed for their hospitality, &c.

This evening a conference meeting was held, to consider the best methods of securing a revival of religion. Five minutes were allowed each speaker for an expression of his views. The Synod closed its present meeting with prayer by the Moderator. Many of the ministers left on this afternoon's trains. Those remaining will leave to-morrow.

RAILWAY MATTERS.

Suit Against the Missouri Pacific Company for Rent Due on a Leased Line.

ST. LOUIS, October 11.—In the year 1872 the Missouri Pacific Railroad Company leased for thirty years the St. Louis, Lawrence and Denver Railroad as a short line running from Pleasant Hill, Missouri, to Lawrence, Kansas, the consideration being that the St. Louis, Lawrence and Denver Company should issue one million dollars of first mortgage bonds to complete the road, the interest on the bonds, sixty thousand dollars per annum, to be paid by the Missouri Pacific Company as rental for the road. The bonds were issued and are now in the hands of various parties. The rental was assigned at the time of making the lease to the Union Trust Company of New York, as trustee for the bondholders. Subsequently the Missouri Pacific Railroad and its branches were leased by the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad Company, and it is claimed that the latter company, in connection with the St. Louis, Lawrence and Denver Company, rescinded the contract for paying the $60,000 rental without the consent of the trust company. No part of the rental, it is alleged, has ever been paid, and suit was to-day instituted in the United States Circuit Court by the Union Trust Company against the Missouri Pacific road to recover the amount alleged as due.

At a meeting of clergymen and laymen in Philadelphia yesterday afternoon, a telegram was received from Moody, the revivalist, reading as follows: "Have asked Brooklyn to let me off; I will commence work in your city on October 31st, God willing.

NEW YORK.

NEW YORK, October 11, 1875.

THE FALL RIVER SYMPATHISERS' MEETING.

The Germania assembly rooms were packed yesterday with workingmen who had gathered to listen to the story of the grievances of the Fall River mill operatives. John Swinton was Chairman, and the speakers were John Bailey, Morgan Jefferson and Bitcliff, delegates from the Fall River weavers, and Swinton, McGuire, Winter and Thompson, of New York. The speakers introducing the delegates, said that they came to represent the white slaves of Rhode Island. Among the sentiments most loudly applauded was one from Leander Thompson, that any man who controlled over $1,000,000, was both a thief and robber.

Death of Hon. Samuel C. Dimmick, Attorney General of Pennsylvania.

HARRISBURG, October 11.—Hon. Samuel C. Dimmick, Attorney General of this State, died to-night, of pneumonia.

CRIMINAL RECORD.

Boston's Fatal Prize-Fight.

BOSTON, October 11.—A dozen of the participants in the recent fatal prize fight at Buzzy Woods, were held for trial to-day. Michael Corney, principal of the seconds in the fatal prize fight, has given himself up to the police.

Illicit Distilleries Seized.

NEW YORK, October 11.—Two illicit stills and contraband material, valued at $15,000, were seized in Brooklyn on Saturday.

The Longmaid Horror in New Hampshire.

CONCORD, October 11.—A crowd estimated at 5,000 persons were at the locality of the Longmaid murder yesterday, but nothing was discovered tending to move the evidence against Drew. An aunt of the deceased girl will testify that Josie stood in fear of Drew. There are rumors of the finding of bloody overalls, but the story lacks confirmation.

The Outbreak in Schuylkill County, Pa.

POTTSVILLE, PA., October 11.—There were no disturbances at Shenandoah last night. This morning all is quiet. The man Jones, who was severely wounded on Saturday night, is still living.

A Murderer Arrested, but Claims Justification.

MEMPHIS, October 11.—Alex. L. Tatem was arrested here this morning for the murder of John Aiken, a planter, near Cotton Plank, Arkansas, on Saturday morning, on a dispatch from that place. Tatem admits the killing of Aiken, but claims justification. He agrees to return without a requisition.

A Murderer Arrested.

CAIRO, October 11.—John Hutchinson, who killed Jacob Sutter here a few months ago, was arrested on the steamer James Howard to-day, by Constable Billingsby.

Body of a Young Suicide Recovered.

DETROIT, October 11.—The body of Winnie Cobbleadbetter, aged sixteen, who disappeared from home on the afternoon of September 29th, was found floating in the river yesterday. It is supposed she committed suicide.

Another Assassination in Schuylkill County, Pa.

POTTSVILLE, PA., October 11.—Thomas Devine, night watchman at the Palmer Vein Colliery, near New Philadelphia, was shot and probably mortally wounded to-night, while on his way to work. The assassin escaped.

The President and Party at Topeka and Kansas City.

TOPEKA, October 11.—The President and party spent two hours in Topeka today. The State officers, Common Council and a large number of citizens met the party at the depot and escorted them to the State capitol, where there was a large number of citizens present. The party was then furnished with dinner at the hotels and escorted to the depot, the train stopping just one hour and fifty-five minutes. The President expressed himself as well pleased with the attention shown him, and with the appearance of the city. He goes to Chicago from here, which place he will reach to-morrow afternoon, and stop one day, and then go direct to Washington.

KANSAS CITY, MO., October 11.—The President and party reached here about four o'clock this afternoon. They were met at Topeka, Kansas, by a special car containing prominent railroad officials and citizens, and accompanied to this city. On their arrival at the depot they were met by an enthusiastic crowd of people, and the President came out on the platform and went through the usual amount of handshaking. The party was furnished with a special train over the St. Louis, Kansas City and Northern Railroad and left for Chicago at five this evening.

The Democratic (and we are sorry to say some of the Independent) newspapers are doing a dirty thing in endeavoring to connect the President with a lobby sneak who is testifying in the Henry Clews business. The Dent spoken of is Judge Lewis Dent, who was only a relative of the family with which the President is connected; he was a Democrat, and ran for Governor of Mississippi some years ago. He has been dead for more than a year.—Columbus Journal.

HOMICIDE IN MERCER COUNTY.

A Telegraph Operator Invokes a Fight—Is Knocked Down and Expires in a Few Minutes.

A special dispatch from Greenville, Mercer county, gives the following details of a homicide which occurred in that place on Saturday last:

Jas. B. Carskadden, aged twenty years, was killed on Main street, at eight o'clock Saturday evening, in an altercation with Solomon Amey. Amey was purchasing goods in a store, when Carskadden called to him to come out on the street and he would fight him. To this Amey paid no attention, and upon the invitation being repeated with some emphasis, Amey went out, struck him on the head or neck, and Carskadden fell upon the side walk. Amey returned and completed his shopping, not knowing what injury he had done. Carskadden was carried into a storeroom near by, where he expired in fifteen minutes, never uttering a word after the occurrence. All day yesterday the town was in great excitement. Carskadden was a telegraph operator, and his father, who lives here, is a lawyer. Amey is a young married man, of about thirty years of age, a sober and industrious laborer. He gave himself up, and was taken to the county seat to-day. Great sympathy is expressed for him. Justice Miller empanneled a coroner's jury, physicians made a post mortem examination, and the following verdict was rendered this morning: "The deceased came to his death by apoplexy of the heart and lungs, caused by excitement and aided by a blow from the hand of Solomon Amey."

In the evening, at half-past seven o'clock, the opening session will be held, which will be presided over by the Rev. W. D. Howard, D.D. After prayer by the Rev. R. S. Alsop, an address will be delivered by Mr. A. G. Byers, of Columbus, Ohio, to be followed by voluntary remarks. The exercises will be closed by singing "Jesus of Nazareth."

The subjects discussed will be of absorbing interest, and all who take an interest in women's efforts to advance the cause of christianity are cordially invited to attend.

Another Libel Suit Against Commodore Kountz.

A dispatch from St. Louis to-night says: "C. W. Mead, formerly General Superintendent of the Northern Pacific Railroad, entered suit to-day in the Circuit Court in this county, against Wm. J. Kountz, of Pittsburgh, for alleged libel in publishing, or causing to be published, in the St. Louis Times last July, a communication charging Mead, while connected with the above road, with embezzling the funds of the company, aiding defaulting agents to escape, making contracts with connecting roads to his own personal advantage, and allowing fraudulent claims against the company. Damages are claimed in the sum of $100,000."

THE alarm of fire from station 213, corner of Penn avenue and Thirty-eighth street, at half-past three o'clock yesterday afternoon, was occasioned by the burning of a bed in a house on Denny street. The house was owned by Mr. Wainwright and occupied by M. Ressenfelt. The damage was slight.

"HONEST" SAM CARY will probably be non est about sundown to-day.

THE exact weight of the German element in Ohio politics will be made known to-day. Teutons count.

THERE ought to be as heavy a Republican vote polled in Ohio, to-day, as there was when VALLANDIGHAM was slaughtered.

THE New York World is gleeful over the Prohibition nominations in Massachusetts, and says it "has reason to believe the Democrats can afford to pay the campaign expenses of Phillips and Baker." Of course they can and will. It is Democratic money keeps the thing agoing in this State, and the same policy will undoubtedly prevail in Massachusetts.

WHY doesn't the Judge resign? If Judge PERSHING is so sure of his chances of election, as his blatant friends pretend to be, why does he hold on to his judgeship? In 1841 the Democrats had a campaign song which they should revive for the Judge's benefit. This was about the jingle of it:

> "For if, as you so loudly say,
> His lucky stars do shine,
> Why don't the Judge resign, my friends,
> Why don't the Judge resign?"

THE Clearfield verdict is accounted for. SINEY is an Irishman and a Democrat; PARKS is an American and a Republican. That settled the whole matter with a Clearfield jury. Of course, with such a jury, SINEY was innocent and PARKS guilty. SINEY boasted before the trial that he would not be convicted. He said the trial was too near the election. He seems to have gauged his Clearfield friends correctly.

No State in the Union has produced more abundant wheat crops this year than sparsely settled Oregon. The estimates made early in the season were cut down somewhat after the hot weather in July set in, but as the harvest and threshing progressed the figures were again advanced, and the Oregonian now believes that the surplus for export will be fully as much as has been at any time expected. Five million bushels of wheat, to say nothing of the various other productions of the soil, in a State with a total population of a little over 100,000, is certainly a showing which should encourage its citizens and attract the attention of others to the marked advantages which Oregon possesses in the production of this great money crop.

AN IMPORTANT suit is at present on trial before the Supreme Court of Missouri, the object being to test the power of State Legislatures to pass laws interfering with the right of railroads to regulate their own rates of traffic for freight and passengers. The Pacific Railroad, the defendant in the suit, claims that under the act of its incorporation it has the absolute right to make and charge such rates as may be agreed upon by its board of directors, provided they be reasonable, and that any law impairing or infringing that right is unconstitutional and void. A similar statute was, we believe, passed in Delaware in 1871, the Court of Errors of that State holding the act unconstitutional so far as it interfered with the rights of railroads that by their charters had the power to regulate their own tariff.

RELIGIOUS business meetings are just now at high tide in the West. The Chicago Journal of Saturday states that besides several important bodies which have recently adjourned, the American Board of Commissioners for Foreign Missions is in session in that city; the Women's Board of Missions is also there; the Rock River Conference is in the midst of its work at Joliet; the Michigan Universalist State Convention is progressing at Bay City; the annual Convention of the Illinois Young Men's Christian Association is convened at Jacksonville; the State Christian Association is convened at the same place; the State Christian Association of Indiana is closing its labors at Indianapolis; the Iowa North Presbyterian Synod has just opened at Sioux City, and even Brigham Young is indulging in a conference of his elders in Utah.

THE runaway thief is the first, when pursuit is made after him, to cry stop thief; and so the outcry of the Ohio Democrats that the Republicans are importing fraudulent voters into that State is doubtless intended to cover a deep design of fraud upon their own part. They set down, in their pretended horror at the revelation, 1,000 voters as going from Pittsburgh into Ohio to vote, and we brand the ridiculous assertion as a wanton fabrication. No crowd, of any number whatever, has gone from this city; and if any single individuals have gone for that purpose we are certain they will be found, upon investigation, to be Democrats. The trains from this city to Ohio have not, for the past week, exceeded the average of travel in that direction; and no thousand men could leave here without exciting instant attention. The cry, so far as this city is concerned, is a fraudulent one.

IN ADDITION to the great political contest in Ohio which culminates at the polls to-day, elections will also be held in Iowa and Nebraska. In the former of these two States a Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Judge of the Supreme Court, Superintendent of Instruction, one-half of the members of the State Senate, and a full House of Representatives are to be chosen. Ex-Governor SAMUEL J. KIRKWOOD leads the Republicans as their candidate for Governor, and the Democrats will throw their votes for Hon. SHEPHERD LEFFLER. At the last election for Governor, in 1873, the Republican vote of Iowa was 105,122, and the Democratic 82,564. The Legislature now to be elected will elect a successor to United States Senator WRIGHT, whose term will expire in 1877. The Republicans will of course carry the State, and the majority will probably range from twenty-five to thirty thousand. The election in Nebraska is for three Judges of the Supreme Court, six Regents of the State University, and a few members of the Legislature to fill vacancies. More important than these will be the vote on the proposed new Constitution for the State. This augments the membership of the Lower House of the Legislature from 52 members to 114, increases the number of district judges, and creates certain new judicial and executive officers. The Republican majority in Nebraska in 1872 was 10,540 in a poll of 25,950.

A DECISION has just been rendered by a Chicago court which all business men interested in the conservation of commercial honor will commend. One of the members of the Board of Trade of that city some time ago became insolvent, and was, on the ground that he had failed to comply with the terms of certain contracts entered into with other members of the board, suspended from all privileges of membership until the matter complained of should be equitably settled. Thereupon he applied for a writ of mandamus constraining the Board of Directors to reinstate him, holding that his discharge in bankruptcy was such a settlement as entitled him to restoration. The court, however, decided that such discharge did not fulfil or satisfy the letter or spirit of the rule requiring a satisfactory arrangement of the debt, and that it is absolutely essential to the well being and existence of associations of this character that its members should be held to a strict observance of their duties as members, and that the penalties imposed for breach of such duties should be enforced. This strikes us as sound reasoning. It is certainly sound morality. There is something more in the purpose, objects, and nature of these corporations than submission to the mere legal fiats of the courts. It not infrequently happens that men have technical legal defenses to causes of action, when good morals and commercial honor require that they should not take such advantages. The decision embraces a principle of more than ordinary public interest and importance.

"STORE-ORDER PERSHING."

The Democratic papers in this State are busily employed in explaining away the votes of their candidate for Governor upon the bill prohibiting corporations paying their workmen in store orders. The record troubles them vastly, and it is only by torturing it that they can make out a favorable showing for the individual now generally known as "Store-Order PERSHING."

An examination of the Legislative Record for 1863 shows that, at the opening of the session of that year, Governor CURTIN recommended the passage of a law preventing the payment of working men in store orders instead of cash for their wages. Shortly afterward, CYRUS L. PERSHING, then a member of the House of Representatives, introduced a resolution instructing the Judiciary Committee (of which he was a member) "to inquire what legislation is expedient and practicable to carry out the recommendation of the Governor, and to report by bill or otherwise." But there the thing rested. The Judiciary Committee, of which Mr. PERSHING was an active part, never attempted to obey its instructions, and two months of the session elapsed during which not a word was said on the subject in the House of Representatives. The House was Democratic, and the Judiciary Committee, which was instructed by the House to inquire into the matter, was also Democratic; and surely two months was a period long enough for the most thorough examination. Yet nothing whatever was done; and if Mr. PERSHING and his committee were in favor of the bill they took a very poor way of proving it.

The Senate, on the other hand, was Republican. It, also, took the matter up and, being in earnest, prepared and passed a bill which fully met the Governor's recommendation. This bill went over to the House; and when it came up for consideration Mr. PERSHING was one of the four members of that body who showed a willingness to obstruct its passage. On the 9th of April the bill came up on second reading, and on the first section a debate sprung up which occupied some time. In the course of the debate, Mr. ROWLAND opposed the bill, and said it was "the very essence of double-distilled nonsense." Finally a motion was made to postpone the bill for the present, which was not debateable, and in order to bring the House to a direct vote upon the bill, its friends called the previous question. This motion for the previous question brought the House to a direct vote upon the merits of the bill. Those who voted for it were friendly to the bill, and those who voted no were opposed to it. The vote stood—yeas 85, nays 4, and the nays were Messrs. COCHRAN, NOYES, ROWLAND and PERSHING.

Here we find Mr. PERSHING cheek by jowl with ROWLAND, who had just made a speech denouncing the bill; and there is consequently no mistake in classing the two together as its enemies.

The bill was not disposed of at this sitting, the House having adjourned before a final vote could be had; but on the next day, April 10, a motion was made to suspend the rules in order to take it up, which was lost, and Mr. PERSHING is again found voting no.

On the 11th the bill again came up and was passed, but the yeas and nays were not called upon it, and we have no means of learning whether PERSHING voted for or against it. The probability is that he was consistent with his former action and voted no.

Now here we have Mr. PERSHING voting against this bill on the only yea and nay votes that were cast upon it; and the only offset to this fact is that he offered a resolution in the early part of the session instructing the committee of which he was a member to inquire into the matter. But as neither he nor his committee obeyed the instruction, the fair presumption is that he was not anxious for its passage.

It is probable that, at the opening of the session, Mr. PERSHING was in favor of adopting the Governor's recommendations; but as the Governor, after advising its passage, vetoed the bill after it was passed, it is also probable that the influences which changed the Governor's mind, between the opening and closing of the session, were likewise brought to bear upon the plastic mind of the representative from Cambria. It is certain that he never took a single step toward obeying the instructions he had himself offered upon the subject; and that at every subsequent stage of the proceedings he joined hands with those who ridiculed the bill as "the very essence of double-distilled nonsense."

Hence, the closer we study this record, and the longer we dwell upon its revelations, the stronger grows the conviction that he is justly nicknamed "Store-Order PERSHING." It serves his purpose to pretend, now, to be the workingman's friend; but it was no part of his purpose to occupy that position then. He was the attorney, at that time, of a corporation that paid its men with store orders, and he was not, as we have shown, unfaithful to his client.

OHIO.

The election takes place in Ohio to-day; and the prayers of every lover of the Right will go up constantly, during its progress, that the Right may triumph, and such low demagogues as CARY and ALLEN may be emphatically rebuked. Heaven, surely, has no attribute that can be appealed to for their success.

The deep interest which the contest in that State has awakened, and the deep excitement which everywhere prevails concerning it, have, we fear, given it a greater importance than it intrinsically deserves. It is a very important election, on account of the issues involved in it; but it is by no means to be regarded as a decisive or conclusive struggle. It will be entitled to its weight; but the weight will not be a preponderating one.

Of course, a Republican victory in Ohio, to-day, will nerve the hands of our people in Pennsylvania, and incite them to greater activity and zeal; but a Republican defeat will not unnerve them. Whatever the result there may be, we desire to give notice, in advance, that the Republicans of Pennsylvania will not for one moment relax their work or slacken in their efforts to elect their State ticket. We shall be glad to have Ohio go along with us; but we shall keep on our way resolutely, whether she goes with us or not.

It is to be presumed that the Democrats, if beaten to-day in Ohio, will still make an earnest fight to carry Pennsylvania. Indeed, it is probable that their defeat, in that State, will make them fight all the more determinedly here. The Republicans of Pennsylvania must not, therefore, expect to find their own contest decided by that of Ohio. They must fight their own fight, without regard to any other, and there will be all the more need for Republican success in Pennsylvania, if our friends in Ohio fail to win.

We write thus in the fullest confidence of a Republican triumph in Ohio to-day. Our friends there have made a most gallant and determined struggle, and have deserved success by their bravery, perseverance and skill. The State is Republican, beyond question; and as the vote will be a full one, there is the strongest reason for believing that there, as everwhere else, a full Republican vote will bring a Republican victory.

THE Johnstown Tribune thus clinches its previous statement, in general terms, that PERSHING is a national bank stockholder:

"Our paragraph crediting Mr. Pershing with being a stockholder in the First National Bank of Johnstown having been extensively copied and commented on by the press, we think it worth while to give the following additional facts on the subject:

"The bank was organized in 1863, and Mr. Pershing was one of the original subscribers to the capital stock to the extent of ten shares—the shares being one hundred dollars each. He subsequently purchased four more shares, making his interest in the bank fourteen hundred dollars, which interest he still retains. Mr. Pershing believes in holding on to all the good things he gets hold of. He finds the Schuylkill Judgeship a good thing, and he holds on to it firmly; he has found the stock in the First National Bank of Johnstown a very good thing for the past twelve years, and he holds on to that with Shylock tenacity, the denunciations of the Erie platform to the contrary notwithstanding. Mr. Pershing will not go back on his pocket—not he; he is not that kind of a patriot."

The Scranton Republican affirms, in addition to the above, that PIOLLET is also the holder of stock in the national banks. It says:

"The Erie Convention adopted a resolution demanding the extermination of the national banks, and then nominated Messrs. Pershing and Piollet as the standard bearers of the party. Judge Pershing owns one-twelfth of all the stock of a national bank at Johnstown, and Piollet is known to be the largest owner of bank stocks in Bradford county. It is nothing to the discredit of their candidates that they are possessed of such valuable assets, but it shows how fraudulent and inconsistent the convention was. Piollet, especially, sets himself up as an anti-corporation man, notwithstanding that nine-tenths of his large income is derived from dividends paid by the Lehigh Valley Railroad Company, banks and other corporations."

Here, then, we have a party passing a resolution in its platform denouncing the national banks and demanding their early extinction, to be replaced by local banks under State control, and at the same time nominating two men as candidates who are identified with the national bank system and have shown their confidence in it by investing their spare cash in national bank stock. If the national banks are never overthrown until PERSHING and PIOLLET uproot them, they have a remarkably long lease of life before them.

IT WAS a lucky thing for Mrs. JESSE MILLER that her notorious and not over-scrupulous son-in-law was nominated for office on the Democratic State ticket, this year; for the publication of her affidavit in the suit in equity brought by her against him to compel him to pay her and her daughter what was justly due them has frightened the Democratic leaders of the State, and we are not therefore surprised to learn that PIOLLET has settled with her to her satisfaction. The transaction out of which the suit grew will, notwithstanding this, remain a lasting disgrace to him. It is a part of the record, and is conclusive proof of a very disreputable proceeding on his part. The Bradford Reporter treats the settlement as a plea of guilty, on PIOLLET's part, and says:

"After the publication of Mrs. Miller's affidavit, charging her son-in-law, Col. Piollet, with fraud in the settlement of her husband's estate, no time was lost in fixing the matter up, and Mrs. Miller ought to thank us for saving her a good round attorney fee, to say nothing of the delay and uncertainty of the law."

THE registration of votes in Philadelphia meets with the usual Democratic criticism and assault. It is so much larger than the New York list of voters that it is assumed to be in a large degree made up of spurious names. Fortunately, there is a court of justice in this city before which the parties making such charges must sustain them by proof or stand confessed as falsifiers. That a city with 135,000 dwellings should have 171,000 voters can be surprising to no one who knows the permanent and home-loving character of the city and its people. As the sitting judge who is to investigate the charges against this list is a Democrat, the persons who made the allegations will have no reason to complain of unfair treatment. We cannot say that we regret the necessity of these investigations, as the result always sustains the genuineness of all the large statements of population. The increase of the list only reflects the regular gain of population, and while New York is officially set down at 1,200,000 inhabitants, no one ought to think it extraordinary that the population of our own Centennial metropolis shows a large increase. But as an official investigation is to take place, it should be borne in mind that the assertion is made in print that the list contains from 30,000 to 40,000 names of spurious voters. We need hardly say that nothing of the kind can be proven, and those who make such statements know it. Apparently the assertion is made thus extensive in order to plead a want of sufficient time for the exposure.—Philadelphia North American.

WE are now exchanging with five dailies of this State—all of them conducted with tact and ability. The Philadelphia Times, as is usual with its class, is continually sounding its own praise, but it has neither the enterprise, ability or force of the Pittsburgh COMMERCIAL, which is of the five coming to our table—the ablest and best—and is withal more thoroughly fearless in the expression of independent opions than the self-proclaimed independent press.

The Ohio correspondent of the New York Times says: "I have learned to-day upon excellent authority that the Democratic Committee have become gloomy and despondent, and privately admit to each other that the contest is turning against them. The loud boasting of two weeks ago is certainly at an end. They of course make loud professions of their confidence in public, but the air is not filled with the same din and clamor and noisy shouts as it was two months ago."

An Unanswerable Argument.

The strongest argument which can be urged against the advisibility of administering such corrosive and nerve-destroying poisons as arsenic and quinine for intermittent and remittent fevers, is the vastly superior success in the prevention and cure of such diseases of a medicine which is the very antipode of the above named drugs, both in respect of its composition and the results wrought by it. Such a medicine is Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, a purely vegetable preparation, which not only eradicates with wonderful promptitude every trace of fever and ague, and kindred types of malarious disease, from the system, but is a certain preventive of all maladies begotten of miasma-tainted air and water. These results mineral anti-febrile remedies do not effect with certainty, and their continued use entails consequences highly pernicious to the system. The Bitters, on the contrary, not only afford speedy relief, but establish health on a permanent basis.

NERVOUS DEBILITY.

However obscure the cause may be which contribute to render nervous debility a disease so prevalent, affecting, as it does, nearly one-half of our adult population, it is a melancholy fact that day by day, and year by year, we witness a most frightful increase of nervous affections from the slightest neuralgia to the more grave and extreme forms of

NERVOUS PROSTRATION.

Is characterized by a general languor or weakness of the whole organism, especially of the nervous system, obstructing and preventing the ordinary functions of nature; hence there is a disordered state of the secretions; constipation, scanty and high-colored urine, with an excess of earthy or limey sediment, indicative of waste of brain and nerve substance, frequent palpitations of the heart, loss of memory, and marked irresolution of purpose, and inability to carry into action any well defined business enterprise, or to fix the mind upon any one thing at a time. There is great sensitiveness to impress, though retained but a short time, with a flickering and fluttering condition of the mental faculties, rendering an individual what is commonly called a whiffle-minded, or fickle-minded man.

This condition of the individual, distressing as it is, may, with a certainty, be cured by

FINANCE AND TRADE.

MONDAY EVENING, October 11, 1875.

In addition to the report published yesterday, compiled from the national bank statements of October 1st, we present herewith an abstract of the condition of all the national banks of Pittsburgh and Allegheny city. This statement properly represents the national banking interest of this city, as the Allegheny banks, although treated as rural banks in all matters of reserve, deposits and capital, are just as practically a part of Pittsburgh banking interests as any of the other banks. This statement is therefore necessary to show the magnitude of the national banking interests of this city. The statement is as follows:

RESOURCES.

Loans and discounts	$21,729,620
Over drafts	84,288
U. S. bonds to secure circulation	8,510,375
Due from reserve agents	2,221,040
Due from national banks	623,678
Due from State banks	309,844
Real estate, &c	1,305,613
Expenses and premiums	397,380
Checks and cash items	171,557
Exchanges for Clearing House	792,258
National bank currency	546,653
Fractional currency	57,465
Specie	34,593
Legal tenders	2,430,528
Five per cent. redemption fund	370,015
Due from United States Treasurer	175,783
Total	$39,770,694

LIABILITIES.

Capital stock	$11,373,467
Surplus fund	3,313,680
Undivided profits	839,937
Circulation outstanding	7,227,468
Dividends unpaid	33,322
Deposits	14,719,022
Due national banks	1,126,080
Due State banks and bankers	1,137,715
Total	$39,770,694

A comparison of the leading items of this report with a summary of the corresponding report of the Chicago national banks taken from the Tribune, shows the relative standing of the two cities as follows:

	Pittsburgh.	Chicago.
Capital, surplus, &c	$15,527,084	$11,927,500
Circulation	7,227,468	2,712,400
Deposits	16,982,817	31,030,655
Loans and discounts	21,729,620	26,035,582
Total resources	39,770,694	46,466,358

The comparison shows a considerable excess in favor of Pittsburgh in capital and circulation, while the more extentended operations of the Chicago banks swell their totals of deposits, loans and general totals beyond those of our city. The statement of the Pittsburgh banks is one which will compare in point of strength with that of any city in the country, and our bankers may well be proud of it.

—In connection with the financial discussion now going on the New York Bulletin corrects the statement made by certain leading publicists that a rigid contraction of the currency has taken place during the past two years: "It is true that, between July 31, 1873, and July 29, 1875, the circulation of the Bank of France was reduced 550,900,000 francs. But it is also true (1) that, during that period, France imported 1,375,400,000 francs more of specie than she exported; (2) that, of this sum, 814,400,000 francs was added to the specie in the Bank of France; and (3) that consequently 561,000,000 francs of specie was added, within these two years, to the active circulation. The facts, then, are that the paper circulation was contracted 550,900,000 francs, and that the specie circulation was simultaneously augmented 561,000,000 francs. Instead, therefore, of there being any reduction of the circulating medium, during the two years, there was an increase of 10,100,000 francs; which takes away the whole basis of the reasoning founded upon a supposed contraction."

—We take from an exchange the following with regard to the remarkable profits resulting from a successful silver mine:

"A suit is now being prosecuted in the Nineteenth District Court of the State of California, involving the proceeds from 100 shares of Consolidated Virginia Mining Company's stock. From the court records it appears that in July, 1871, the stock was selling at $6 per share—100 shares costing $600. In April, 1872, the stock had advanced to $140 per share—$14,000 for 100 shares. In May, 1872, its owner received a stock dividend of 100 per cent., thus increasing the 100 shares to 200 shares. In October, 1873, another stock dividend, 500 per cent., was paid on the entire capital, which increased the 200 shares to 1,000 shares. In January, 1874, a part of the Consolidated Virginia Company's property was sold to the California Mining Company, and the owner of 1,000 shares Consolidated Virginia stock received as his pro rata share of the proceeds of this sale 583⅓ shares California Company's stock. In January, 1875, Consolidated Virginia stock and California stock both sold at $800 per share, giving a total value of $1,266,800, besides cash dividends, to the proceeds of the original 100 shares Consolidated Virginia stock, which in July, 1871, cost $6 per share, or $600. In January, 1875, the capital of each company was $10,800,000. In February, 1875, they were authorized to increase their capital to $54,000,000 each, and the California Company availed itself of this privilege. The Consolidated Virginia owns 730 feet, and the California 600 feet on the Comstock lode."

—The following table shows the prices of gold, Government bonds, railway stocks, etc., at the various sessions of the New York Stock Exchange during the day, furnished by the Fifth National Bank, No. 16 Sixth street:

—The exports of gold and silver from New York since January 1st to—

October 2, 1875	$61,855,000
October 2, 1874	42,818,000
Increase this year	$19,037,000

Gold is getting so scarce in New York that the bankers and speculators are beginning to count on a comparatively permanent depression in the prices of sterling bills of exchange drawn against shipments of produce. This depression in exchange is, in fact, a heavy tax which comes off the prices of the produce shipped and is, therefore, an obstacle to exports. There seems to be no prospect of relief very soon. The sum of $532,000 in gold was imported from London to New York last week, but it was only the great depression in exchange that drew even this small sum, and it is doubtful if much more will come without a further decline in the price of exchange. England is now uneasy at the flow of gold from London to Germany, and if any considerable amount should be likely to be drawn to this country from London the Bank of England would at once advance the rate of discount in order to keep her gold at home. The United States Treasury will sell $4,000,000 of gold in October ($1,000,000 every Thursday, beginning to-morrow). But this will not relieve the market in New York, except very temporarily. It is plain that the stock of gold has been steadily and rapidly drained out of the country, and although the drain has diminished very much in the last five weeks the apprehensions of continued scarcity keep up the price.—Chicago Inter-Ocean.

—The Alta California of the 30th ult. reports: The shipments of treasure this week have been as follows:

To	1874.	1875.
New York, per railroad	$392,406 85	$660,044 92
Previously per steamer	8,330,356 80	6,105,404 45
Previously per railroad	12,869,992 95	26,109,982 94
Total since Jan. 1	$21,592,756 69	$32,875,432 31

The shipment to New York per rail embraced $476,000 in gold coin, showing a considerable increase in the coin shipments. Since the suspension of the bank the movement has been:

Week to September 2	$10,000
Week to September 9	14,000
Week to September 16	5,000
Week to September 22	190,000
Week to September 29	476,000

The mint has been active in the same period, and there has been a good supply of bullion from the Bonanza mines, which are yielding with increasing quantities. Some mills recently purchased, added to the great new mill of the California mine, which will run by the close of this month, will swell the produt immensely.

Gold Closed at 116¼.

MONEY.

NEW YORK, October 11.—Money easy at 2@4 per cent, closing dull at 2 per cent. Prime mercantile paper 5½@7 per cent. The Assistant Treasurer disbursed $44,000. Customs receipts $608,000. Clearings $31,000,000. Bankers' bills 478½@482.

GOLD.

Gold opened and closed at 116¼, with sales in the interim at 116⅜. Rates paid for borrowing were 5-64, 1-16, 3-32, 1-64, 1-32 and 3-64 per cent. per diem. At the close loans were made flat.

STOCKS AND BONDS.

Government bonds a fraction lower. In railroad bonds this afternoon the leading feature was a sharp advance in Union Pacific securities and Chicago and Northwestern consolidated coupon gold bonds, the latter advancing to 85. Union Pacific firsts advanced to 103⅛, land grants to 94 and sinking funds to 88¾. Chicago, Burlington and Quincy thirds sold at 116. State bonds dull. The feeling of depression which was so prominent a feature of dealings at the Stock Exchange last week has passed away and the market gives evidence of a very firm undertone. The low prices current for some shares have naturally induced many outsiders to appear in the market as buyers, and considerable amounts of stock have been purchased for out-of-town parties, while affairs in trade circles have shown a marked improvement of late. The Stock Exchange had up to this stubbornly refused to respond, but to-day there are strong indications that the tide has turned in the direction of higher prices. Stocks at the opening were in the main strong and higher, the improvement as compared with Saturday night's closing prices ranging from ½@2 per cent. At second call the market was firm at the advance. The temper of speculation continued throughout the day and the share list closed at a decided advance in prices. Union Pacific led on an upward turn and rose from 63⅛ to 68 on an active business, an advance for the day of 4⅛ per cent. Northwestern preferred came next, rising from 47¼ to 50 and closing at 49⅞. St. Paul preferred advanced from 60 to 62⅞. Missouri Pacific rallied from 18 to 20⅛. Lake Shore was active and rose from 52⅞ to 53¾. Northwestern common advanced from 34¼ to 36c, St. Paul common from 30¾ to 32¼. Michigan Central from 54¼ to 55¾, Pacific Mail from 34¾ to 36¼. Western Union from 74⅛ to 75⅝, Delaware, Lackawanna and Western from 117 to 118, New Jersey Central from 103¾ to 104¾, Hannibal and St. Joseph from 16¾ to 17¼, Rock Island from 102 to 102⅝. Harlem from 131 to 131¾, New York Central from 102½ to 103, Erie from 16⅞ to 17¼ and Ohio and Mississippi from 15 to 15⅝. Atlantic and Pacific preferred rose from 5⅛ to 6. There was a strong buying of stocks during the day, and there was more confidence manifested than for a week or two past. It is thought from the rapid advance that the stock market has been oversold. Such investment stocks as Delaware, Lackawanna and Western and New Jersey Central were in demand from those who sold them last week. The road and land mortgages of Little Rock and Fort Smith Railroad were foreclosed last December and the property was transferred to a new company, which took the name of the Little Rock and Fort Smith Railway and immediately proceeded to make a new mortgage, embracing both road and land. The validity of the transfer is to be contested by some of the old bondholders, suits for a review and other suits for partition having been commenced in the United States Court at Little Rock. Transactions at the Stock Exchange 197,000 shares, of which 32,000 were Pacific Mail, 30,000 Western Union, 32,000 Northwestern common, 11,000 preferred, 8,000 St. Paul common, 4,500 preferred, 3,600 Erie, 45,000 Lake Shore, 3,400 Ohio and Mississippi, 13,000 Union Pacific and 7,000 Missouri Pacific.

GENERAL MARKETS.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
MONDAY, October 11, 1875. }

Business among the wholesale houses was fairly active to-day at generally steady prices. Grain moved freely at about former quotations. Flour was active and unchanged. Produce was also in brisk demand at firm values. Groceries are active with several minor changes. Provisions were firm and unchanged. General merchandise was steady and active.

The New York Mercantile Journal has the following concerning the rice markets:

"The beginning of October usually witnesses the opening of the new crop year for rice, though often, as in the present case, the harvesting is far advanced and various parcels have found their way to the market a few weeks in advance of the regular opening. The past year has been one that must have proved highly satisfactory to both planters and dealers, as, notwithstanding the reports of damage by untimely rain storms during the harvesting, it was soon found that the yield would be fully as large as the year previous, and interested parties who hoped to make capital by giving circulation to the unfavorable reports were themselves bitten when it was ascertained that the crop would aggregate an excess over that of the year previous which it did to the extent of 2,020 tierces. In quality the crop turned out fully equal to any preceding year, which tended further to disappoint these operators. It proved, in fact, a surprise to all, as it had been pretty generally conceded, early in the season, that the proportion of damaged rice would be very large."

The quotations given in the following reports are prices realized in wholesale transactions, unless otherwise specified. On small sales, dealers will charge an advance. Sales of grain, unless stated to the contrary, are free of elevator.

LIVE STOCK MARKETS.

Union Drove Yards, Allegheny City.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH COMMERCIAL, }
MONDAY, October 11, 1875. }

THE MARKET.

There were few changes in market values since our report of last Monday—indeed none worthy of special mention. The trade was dull all round, and stock of all descriptions went off slowly and at prices, for all common and medium grades, shaded from those of last week slightly.

YARD REMOVAL.

There was considerable talk to-day about the removal of the stock yards from their present location to "parts unknown." Councils, it seems, says the nuisance, if such they be, must be removed. Per contra, the stock men assert that they have not committed and are in no way a nuisance, and will not pull up "steaks" and depart until they are enjoined so to do by the courts. So to the courts will the appeal be made.

ARRIVALS OF STOCK.

The following table show the arrivals of live stock by rail, for the week ending to-day, from which it will be noticed that there is little difference between the run of this and last week:

CATTLE.

The arrivals of cattle by rail, it will be seen, for the week are 564 head, against 524 last week. The number sent in from East Liberty and driven in from the surrounding counties would swell the number of offerings to about 700 head. There was no improvement in quality over last week, the majority being of the common and medium grades, the latter class selling slowly at prices off a shade from last week's rates. Good stock were selling up to last week's prices. Although the offerings were in excess of the demand, they were well worked off, and few cattle will be left unsold at the close of the day. We quote as follows:

Choice, 1,400 to 1,500 ℔s	$7 00@7 25
Good, 1,300 to 1,400 ℔s	6 00@6 50
Fair, 1,200 to 1,300 ℔s	5 50@5 75
Bulls	3 00@3 50
Stockers and feeding steers	3 75@4 00
Calves, as to quality	5 00@6 00

HOGS.

The sales of hogs continue light, the offerings to-day not exceeding 200 head. Butchers only buy what supplies their trade from week to week demand, patiently awaiting a lower scale of prices. We quote as follows:

Philadelphias	$8 50@9 00
Yorkers and Baltimores	7 75@8 20
Roughs	7 00@7 25

SHEEP.

The run of sheep this week was lighter than for some time past. Notwithstanding this fact the market ruled dull, and prices were not better than last week. As usual choice sheep met with ready sale, while all medium and common grades were dull sale. We quote:

Good, 90 to 115 ℔s	$5 00@5 25
Good, 85 to 90 ℔s	4 50@4 75
Good, 80 to 85 ℔s	4 25@4 40
Common, per head	2 00@3 50

MILCH COWS.

The number on sale was limited, and prices were entirely governed by their qualities as milkers, running from $25 00 up to $65 00.

THE ELECTION IN OHIO.

On account of the great interest felt in the election which takes place in Ohio today, bulletins of the dispatches will be exhibited from the COMMERCIAL office as received to-night.

The Finest Display

Of safes at the Exposition is made by Thomas Barnes, proprietor of the Star Safe Works of this city.

The South Side Shooting.

Drs. Riggs and Kerr, who are attending John Hite, who was shot Sunday night by Frederick Stolte, a saloon keeper, express the opinion that the wounded man cannot survive his injuries, the bullet having penetrated the intestines. Deputy Mayor Hoerr yesterday morning committed Stolte to jail to await the result of Hite's injuries.

Republican Rally at Bakerstown.

An enthusiastic Republican meeting was held at Bakerstown, on Saturday evening. Dr. S. H. Allen presided and S. D. Allison, J. B. Austin and William Dickey acted as Vice Presidents, and Daniel Dickson as Secretary.

Speeches were made by S. P. Fulton, Senator Newmyer, J. Fitzimmons and Thomas M. Bayne.

New Sabbath School Songs.

We are indebted to the publishers, Oliver Ditson & Co., Boston, for a copy of "The Shining River; a New Collection of Sabbath School Songs, by H. S. & W. O. Perkins." The work contains one hundred and sixty pieces, the best productions of these popular composers. For sale by Messrs. Knake & McGinn, No. 12 Sixth street.

Regimental Reunion

The second reunion of the 140th regiment will be held at Beaver, Pa., on the 21st of October, at ten o'clock. The regiment was mustered at Pittsburgh, August 23d, 1862, composed from the counties of Washington, Beaver, Mercer and Greene. The regiment joined the Army of the Potomac, December 20th, 1862, and remained there until the end of the war.

Ohio River Improvement.

The Ohio River Improvement Commission will hold a meeting in this city on the 27th of this month, at the Monongahela House. The occasion of the meeting here this year is because the first lock and dam, under the experiment authorized a year or two ago by Congress, is located near our city, and also because a model prepared under the direction of Colonel Meredith will be on exhibition at the rooms of the Coal Exchange.

Epizooty.

This disease, which made its appearance some days ago among the horses in this and Allegheny cities, has assumed an alarming phase on the North Side. Yesterday three horses belonging to Frederick Heyl, a teamster, residing on Market street, died of the disease. Many of the horses belonging to the Pittsburgh, Allegheny and Manchester Railway Company are more or less affected, but only a few, we are informed, are unable to work in consequence.

Allegheny Committees.

The Market Committee, at its meeting last evening, besides approving a number of bills, resolved to report adversely on the resolution from Councils instructing the Clerk of Markets to refuse all applications for stalls for any other purpose than the sale of meat and vegetables.

The only business transacted by the Water Committee was the consideration of a number of applications for exoneration from payment of water rents.

Bad Boys.

A crowd of bad boys living in this city are in the habit of crossing the Mechanic street bridge to Allegheny, where they conduct themselves in a very disorderly manner. Yesterday they went over in force and were driven back by officer McIntyre. When they reached the Pittsburgh side they armed themselves with clinkers and made an attack upon the officer in force, compelling him to retire. The Superintendent of the bridge company stated that he would enter a complaint before Mayor McCarthy against the young rascals.

Christian Missionary Convention.

The annual convention of the Christian Missionary Society will be held in the First Christian Church, (Rev. Joseph King, pastor,) corner of Arch street and Montgomery avenue, Allegheny, commencing at two o'clock this afternoon. The convention will be made up of delegates appointed by the different churches in the State. Addresses will be delivered by Dr. S. E. Shepherd, of Troy, Pennsylvania; Rev. Thomas Munnell, of Cincinnati, Ohio; Rev. Peter Vegel, of Sharon, Pennsylvania; Rev. C. L. Loss, of Bethany College, and others. On Thursday a Sunday School Institute will be held.

A New Thing in Safe Locks

Mr. Thomas Barnes, proprietor of the Star Safe Works, of this city, has on exhibition at the Exposition a novelty in the way of a lock that cannot fail to receive the favorable consideration of bankers and business men generally. It is called a time lock and is constructed on the principal of a clock. With this appliance it is impossible to unlock a safe between the closing hour of business in the evening and the opening in the morning. This will effectually prevent burglars from succeeding in their practice of gagging cashiers and watchmen and compelling them to open their safes. A representative of the house will be in attendance at the Exposition during the day and evening, to explain to all visitors this new feature in protection from burglars. Country bankers are especially invited to its examination.

Lieut. Tyre's Statement.

In yesterday's COMMERCIAL we gave what purported to be a correct report of the suit instituted before Alderman McMasters, by Margaret Roxbury, against Lieutenant Tyre. The charge which she made against the officer was for assault and battery and malicious mischief, and he waived a hearing and gave bail for trial. Her statement was in substance that on Friday night last, while she sat quietly in her father's house, the officer broke open the door, arrested her without a warrant, beat and abused her, and dragged her to the lock-up, where, upon a hearing next morning, she was discharged. Lieutenant Tyre denies these allegations in toto, and says he did not arrest the woman at all. He had been at the house that evening, (which he says is a notorious den,) for the purpose of arresting certain parties who had been complained against by the neighbors, and who had been in the habit of raising disturbances there. Later in the evening officer Riley arrested the woman for disorderly conduct, and next morning made out a case against her—the Mayor fining her five dollars and costs—but she gave the name of Rosa Dennison. This statement puts a different face on the whole matter. When asked why he did not demand a hearing, having proof that he had not laid a hand on the woman, he said he would not defend against any charge made against him before Alderman McMasters, as he could not expect a fair hearing from him. He preferred to let the court settle the matter. If this be the correct version—and we have no reason to doubt it—Lieutenant Tyre is certainly relieved from all blame.

BASE BALL.

The game at Mercer, Pa., yesterday, between the Unions of that place, and the Mutuals, of Meadville, Pa., resulted in a victory for the Unions by a score of 17 to 14. Nine innings were played.

The game between the Oil Citys and Neshannocks, of New Castle, played at New Castle, yesterday, was won by the Neshannocks. Score, 16 to 14.

The game at Union Park, yesterday, between the Xanthas and Sewickley's, was not a very interesting one and did not attract a very large crowd. The Sewickleys won, scoring 15 to 10 for the Xanthas.

JESSE PRICE'S SIGHT RESTORED.

Wm. Richards Has a Cataract Removed.

Mr. Price, for the past eleven years head tool-dresser at the Keystone Bridge Works, and for ten years previous Superintendent of part of the City Water Works, has, as is well known, been blind from cataract for about two years. Three weeks ago he underwent the operation for extraction of the cataract from the right eye, at the hands of Dr. Sadler. During the past week he has been up and about, able to recognize all the friends who have called on him, and can even see a pin perfectly without glasses. He says he will soon be down town to speak for himself.

Wm. Richards, of Brady's Bend, Pa., had a cataract extracted by Dr. Sadler, No. 256 Penn avenue, Saturday afternoon. He can already recognize those about him when the eye is being dressed. He says the eye feels as well as though nothing had happened to it. He is stopping at the Young Men's Home.

THE EXPOSITION.

Second Day of the Great Show—Increased Attendance—Improvements in Every Department—Meeting of the Chamber of Commerce—Press Excursion, &c., &c.

The attendance at the Exposition Building yesterday showed a large increase over that of Saturday, and the indications are fair that the improvement in this respect will continue from day to day, and that by the middle of the week the place will be crowded with visitors. The principal drawback at present is the absence of the means for heating the building, and it is confidently expected that this will be remedied this evening, when the furnaces in Power Hall will be fired up and steam supplied to the ample heating apparatus, which is already in position.

THE DISPLAYS.

The exhibitors have good reason to be proud of their success in the arrangement of their machinery, wares and goods of every description, for it is remarked by all who have witnessed the displays at the great Expositions in Cincinnati and Chicago, that they have never seen anything in these places that excelled in tasteful arrangement the work of the exhibitors here. Among the notable displays, we have here all the different sewing machines in the country; likewise innumerable music machines; a large variety of buggies and carriages; magnificent furniture; in fact, a greater number of articles than we have the space to merely mention in this article.

AS TO FURNITURE.

We observed last evening, on the second floor of the building, near the center balcony, the finest display of furniture we have ever seen. It is a parlor set, consisting of a sofa, four chairs of one pattern, two other chairs designated as a lady's and a gentleman's chair, and a table to match. All of French walnut and finished in satin. A large and admiring crowd of people stood around this display, and everybody predicted that the exhibitor, whoever he might be, would certainly come out with the first premium. Our curiosity was aroused to such a pitch that we asked the name of the proprietor of the magnificent furniture, and learned that he was none other than Mr. P. Holderman, of No. 192 East Ohio street, Allegheny. Mr. H. is to be congratulated upon his great achievement on this occasion.

OTHER BEAUTIFUL SIGHTS.

We noticed some other elegant suits of furniture in another part of the building, together with many other articles, all of which we propose to attend to during the progress of the show.

MEETING OF THE CHAMBER OF COMMERCE.

About twelve o'clock yesterday the Chamber of Commerce met at Press Headquarters, Vice President John F. Dravo in the chair. There was a fair attendance. The Vice President called upon Hon. J. K. Moorhead, who responded in a few well considered remarks concerning the Chamber and the great things it was capable of accomplishing by united effort. As to the Exposition, he characterized it as a just and important enterprise, and bespoke for it the largest measure of success.

Hon. James H. Hopkins was the next speaker. His warmest sympathies were enlisted in the Chamber of Commerce and the Industrial Institute.

Captain Dravo next called upon Hon. Felix R. Brunot, the "great friend of the Ohio river improvement." The gentleman named responded in giving a historical sketch of the old Pittsburgh Board of Trade, to which institution our city owed more than anything else, and the great commercial meetings of Detroit, Philadelphia, Cincinnati, &c., upon which the mind of Pittsburghers made the most decided impression. He wanted the present Chambers to profit by its example: such an institution was of vital importance to our city. No city can get along without an organization of this sort. It was not necessary to meet every day. There was the financial question. The politician had for several years been tinkering about it, while the industries of the country were suffering, and the question was really one which merchants and manufacturers should decide. In his opinion, the great remedy was to provide markets for our manufacture by the fostering of immigration, and thus supplying home markets, and the operation of a protective tariff—it ought to be increased from fifty to one hundred per cent. In conclusion he congratulated the men who had gotten up this fine Exposition, and the great success that had been achieved. He looked forward to the time when such Expositions would be permanent.

John H. Ricketson, Esq., of the firm of A. Garrison & Co., was next called upon, who gave a succinct sketch of the Industrial Institute, and the immense work which was accomplished by the few men who had taken hold of it. The fact that Pittsburgh did not hold the place among her sister cities, was discoursed upon by Mr. Ricketson in a very eloquent manner. The unattractiveness of our cities and the entire lack of concerted action among its citizens, were adduced as main reasons. The duty of citizens was clearly to support such institutions as the Chamber of Commerce. We had not the proper amount of "self-esteem" in Pittsburgh. For the first time in her history we had an Exposition, and trusted that competitive effort would every year increase its size and magnitude. If it did not, the fault lay not in our stars, but in ourselves. Capt. W. W. Martin compared the Exposition to Jonah's gourd. Its growth had been continuous, far exceeding his fondest anticipations. He agreed with Mr. Ricketson that our lack of self-assertion was very decided. He didn't know anything like the Exposition to cure us of this.

The meeting then adjourned.

PRESS EXCURSION.

The visiting members of the Press made an excursion yesterday afternoon up the Incline Plane Railway, and over the Castle Shannon Railroad to its terminus. The party were in charge of President Hays, of the last named road, who showed them every courtesy. At Castle Shannon the press gang were treated to a ride on the underground railroad of the Castle Shannon Coal Company, going three miles into the bowels of the earth in coal cars. The afternoon was spent in affording pleasant surprises to the visitors, and last evening they spent a half an hour on Mt. Washington admiring the city by gaslight. Before returning to the city a meeting was organized, at which the following resolutions were adopted:

Resolved, That we, the press, do hereby tender our sincere thanks to Mr. Milton D. Hays, President, Josiah Reymer, Secretary and Treasurer, and Thomas N. Miller, of the Board of Directors of the Castle Shannon Railway, for their kindness and courtesy and the attention paid us in escorting us over their road and through their mines.

Resolved, That we hereby express our heartfelt thanks and obligations to the management of the Monongahela Incline Plane Company for courtesies extended the representatives of the press on their excursion.

THE WHISKY BUSINESS.

It is claimed by the Executive Committee that they leased the entire lower floor to Messrs. C. H. Love and J. S. Keating for "refreshment stands," with the fully understood agreement that no intoxicating liquors should be sold, and if these gentlemen sublet the same to parties with the understanding that they could sell anything they pleased, such action was without the authority of the Executive Committee.

The following resolution was passed yesterday by the conference of Baptist ministers:

Resolved, That having learned that intoxicating drinks are or have been sold at the Industrial Exposition now open, we enter our solemn protest against such sale, and our fixed purpose to withhold our patronage from the Exposition if the sale is continued.

EXPOSITION ITEMS.

The managers stated last evening that the Ohio election returns would be announced this evening at the building, by telegraph. A magic lantern will be brought into requisition, by which means the dispatches will be displayed on canvas in such a way that they can be read by everybody.

Messrs. Murdock and Bochman & Patterson, florists, supplied the members of the press with beautiful buttonhole boquets yesterday.

A dispatch was received yesterday from Superintendent Hyndman, of the Pittsburgh and Connellsville Railroad, announcing that excursion tickets to the Exposition would hereafter be sold on his road good for three days from date of issue.

Yesterday afternoon Hon. W. H. Graham, of Allegheny, placed on exhibition an eyeless fish, caught in Echo river, Mammoth Cave, a few months ago. It can be seen near the fountain, in a small aquarium.

There will be a balloon ascension to-day.

Horse premiums will be awarded next Thursday. The premium stock will remain all week.

BOAT EXCURSION TO THE SHOW.

The fast little excursion steamer "Jack Gumbert" offers superior inducements to citizens and strangers who wish to reach the Industrial Exposition. The time of arrival and departure from the foot of Wood street is given, and as the trip is made in ten minutes, the noise, crowding and delays incident to other modes of reaching the great building will be avoided. Persons at the Exposition grounds can return to the city by the same route. To strangers the ride around the point will be especially enjoyable. The fare is only ten cents.

BOGUS PRESS TICKETS.

A great many tickets of admission were issued yesterday from the so-called Press Headquarters on Fourth avenue. These the officers of the Exposition repudiated, and one of them characterized their issue as wholly unauthorized and as a piece of impertinence on the part of the person sending them out. The doorkeepers were instructed to refuse admission to persons presenting these bogus tickets.

Bankers

Are invited to examine time lock at the stand of Thomas Barnes, proprietor of the Star Safes, at the Exposition.

CITY COUNCILS.

State Meeting Yesterday—Veto By the Mayor of the Ordinance Authorizing the Use of the Money in the Sinking Fund—Salaries of City Officers—Improvement of Fifth Avenue and Wood Street—Important Ordinances Considered.

A stated meeting of City Councils was held yesterday afternoon.

SELECT COUNCIL.

In Select Council, Dr. Gross presiding, the following business was transacted:

The President submitted a communication from the Mayor as follows:

VETO MESSAGE FROM THE MAYOR.

To the President and Members of the Select Council:

GENTLEMEN—I herewith return ordinance No. 473 without my approval.

This ordinance, when stripped of its legal and formal verbiage, is simply intended to authorize the application, for the time being, of moneys collected for one special purpose to be used in another direction.

If this ordinance is carried out, it must be with the intervention of the City Treasurer. The application of this money by the Treasurer to the purpose intended through this ordinance is declared by act of May 16, 1857, to be a crime involving severe penalties. The language of the act is as follows:

Section 2. That whenever any moneys shall have been or may hereafter be collected by law in any city, county or township, for any special purpose, and paid into the hands of the Treasurer of such city, county or township, it shall be unlawful for such Treasurer to apply such moneys or any part thereof to any other purpose than that for which such moneys shall have been or may be collected; and every such misapplication shall be held and deemed a misdemeanor, for which such treasurer may be indicted and tried in the Court of Quarter Sessions of the proper city or county, and upon conviction thereof such treasurer shall be punished by a fine of not less than the amount so misapplied, and by imprisonment in the jail of the proper city or county for not less than three months nor more than one year. Provided, that prosecutions for all offenses under the act shall be commenced within six years from the time when such offence was committed. For the reason indicated, and others which I do not deem it necessary at this time to give, I withhold my approval of the ordinance. I am, very respectfully, your obedient servant,

W. C. M'CARTHY, Mayor.

The communication was received and filed.

Mr. Shipton remarked that the next step was to call up the ordinance, and see if it could not be passed notwithstanding the veto.

The President stated that it required three-fifths of the members elected to pass the bill over the veto.

Mr. Aiken moved to postpone for the present, as there were not three-fifths of the members in the house.

Mr. Shipton then withdrew the matter for the present, with the understanding that it might be called up later in the session.

The wards were then called, when numerous petitions were presented and referred.

Mr. Musgrave presented a resolution, instructing the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to prepare an ordinance fixing the salaries of city officers for the ensuing year. Adopted.

THE WATER FUND.

Mr. Brown, chairman of the Water Committee, presented a report, in which he stated that it would require the sum of $15,000 in addition to the unexpended balance in the appropriation, to keep the water works running up to the first of February next. The amount unexpended is $16,696.

The report was referred to the Finance Committee.

GAS MATTERS.

The Common Council had appointed Messrs. Meyran, Thompson and Wainwright. Select Council concurred and appointed Messrs. Scully and Arnholt.

The ordinance to carry into effect the sixth section of the Wallace bill, recommended by the Road Committee, May 8th, was called up, when Mr. Shipton explained that the work and supplies for the city were already done and furnished under contract. The ordinance was laid on the table.

The resolution instructing the Committee on Retrenchment and Reform to prepare an ordinance fixing salaries of city officers for the ensuing year, came in from Common Council, amended so as to include "employees" as well as officers. Amendment concurred in.

The ordinance locating Point alley, lost at the last meeting, was called up, and a reconsideration moved. The motion was lost by a tie vote.

The ordinance for construction of board walk on Railroad street, from Virginia avenue, to connect with board walk already constructed, was called up and put on final passage. Lost for want of legal majority.

The Council then adjourned.

Mr. Aull presented an ordinance amending an ordinance for the grading, paving and curbing of Main street from Carson to the Ohio river. Considerable discussion was had on the ordinance, after which, on motion, it was laid upon the table.

A resolution was passed granting the use of C. C. chamber to the State Homeopathic Society in which to hold their eleventh annual session, commencing to-morrow.

Adjourned.

CASES ARGUED.

A motion was made by Messrs. Reed and Hamilton, to advance the case of Darlington's appeal, in the matter of the site for new government buildings in this city. The Chief Justice stated that the motion would be held under advisement, until Saturday next.

The Court then took up the case of the Edgewood Railroad Company's appeal from the Common Pleas No. 2, of Allegheny county. The railroad company was organized on the 24th of May, 1873, under the provisions of what is known as the "Free Railroad Law." The road is intended to form a connection with the Pennsylvania Railroad near Edgewood station, and to run thence to a coal field, about one mile distant, near the eastern terminus of Wilkinsburg. The route ran over property of James Kelly and having failed to agree with him as to the price of a right over his grounds the company tendered him a bond in the sum of $25,000 to secure him against loss. Upon his refusal to accept this bond, it was presented to the Court of Common Pleas No. 1 and was approved. The Western Pennsylvania Institution for the Instruction of the Deaf and Dumb, subsequently appeared, filed its bill in equity, alleging ownership, and asked an injunction restraining the railroad company from proceeding with the road. Judge Kirkpatrick directed a preliminary injunction to issue, and stopped the company in their work. The railroad company then tendered to the institution a bond in the sum of $50,000 to indemnify them for any damage they might sustain. The institution refused to accept the bond when it was presented to the Common Pleas No. 1, approved and directed to be filed. A certificate to this effect was presented to Judge Kirkpatrick, and a motion filed to dissolve the injunction. The court refused to dissolve it, and an appeal was taken to this Court. The appeal was heard at the October and November term of 1873, and the decree of the Court below was reversed, whereupon the railroad company proceeded with their work. The road has been, for some time, completed and is now in operation. Meantime an answer having been filed by the railroad company to the plaintiff's bill, a Master was appointed, who took testimony. The Master reported in favor of the railroad company, and recommended a decree dismissing the plaintiff's bill. Exceptions were filed to the Master's report, and the court below reversed his finding, decreed an injunction restraining the defendants from using their road, and made an order that they should restore the premises to the condition in which they were before the commencement of the road. From that decree the company now appeal.

The case was argued by John Dalzell and M. W. Acheson for the railroad company, and S. Schoyer, Jr., and George P. Hamilton for the Deaf and Dumb Institution. The argument occupied the attention of the court until adjournment.

U. S. District Court—Judge McCandless.

Glass, Neely & Co., bankrupts. An application was made in behalf of the bankrups, to allow the payment of wages to the labors and workingmen of the firm, out of a certain deposit belonging to the estate in the Union National Bank. The Court took the matter under consideration and reserved its decision.

Carrier & Baum, bankrupts, Pittsburgh. Application was made for an injunction to restrain Thomas Mellon from preceeding with an execution against Andrew F. Baum. Argued by Mr. Campbell for and Mr. Mellon against the same. The Court granted the injunction.

In the matter of Christopher Rogers, Baer & Stegmayer, John Levi and Dean & Knapp, bankrupts, Luzerne county, the court confirmed the reports of the Register, as to the distribution of certain funds to lien creditors.

Common Pleas No. 1.—Full Bench.

An order was issued for the discharge of Daniel Burgan under the insolvent laws.

In the case of Julius Praeger vs. Louis Riggs, an action on a book account, the jury rendered a verdict certifying a balance of ten dollars in favor of plaintiff.

D. W. Lloyd vs. the COMMERCIAL Printing Company. Action to recover damages for an alleged libel. The plaintiff in this case, in November, 1874, was sued in the District Court, for damages caused by leaving an excavation unguarded. On the same day, another case was tried, involving criminality on part of the defendant. Through an unfortunate mistake, the cause of action in the latter case was published in our paper as the ground of action against Mr. Lloyd, thus doing him an unintentional injury. The error was corrected, and an explanation made the following day, but Mr. Lloyd desired a legal vindication. The jury found for the plaintiff the sum of $63 25.

In the case of W. S. Bissell vs. Thomas Wood, an action to recover on a bond, the jury found in favor of the plaintiff for $103.

A charter of incorporation was granted to the "Verein Frohsnn" society.

In the case of Wm. Thompson vs. George Thompson and wife, an action of ejectment the jury found for plaintiff for six and a quarter cents damages and costs.

The case of James Gothart and wife vs. H. C. Bowers, is on trial. This is an action to recover moneys, alleged to have been received by defendant for the use of the plaintiffs.

The argument in the Magee-McCarthy quo warranto case, adjourned over on Saturday, was concluded by Mr. Bailey.

Burial Lots

PUBLIC AMUSEMENTS.

Pittsburgh Opera House.

"Our Boys," one of H. J. Byron's latest productions, had its first performance at the Opera House last evening. It is of the true Byronic school, sketchy to the last degree; and but for the fine acting of Mr. James Lewis and the company, would have proved a failure. The piece has had a long run—some three hundred nights, we believe,—in London; but like the plays brought over by Toole, will not satisfy the average American audience.

Of Mr. Lewis' great abilities as a comedian there can be no question. He has made during the past few years a reputation in New York second only to those of Brougham and Owens, and is held, deservedly, in high esteem. However lightly the public may hold the play of "Our Boys," the acting of Mr. Lewis will go far to redeem it, and cannot fail to win the approbation of any audience. The company were to be forgiven for any shortcomings noticeable in their efforts, having ridden from Erie on a freight train, and arriving too late in the day to get themselves up to the proper standard. To-night, when "Our Boys" will be repeated, everything may be expected to be in "apple-pie order," so to speak. The attendance last night was large.

Academy of Music.

The first perfomrance of "Around the World in Eighty Days" was given last evening to an audience of fair size, and one apparently ready to acknowledge whatever points of merit they could discover in the performance. The play won considerable applause in the third and fourth tiers, and if there had been a fifth gallery the inmates of that part of the house would have gone wild over it. It out-Herods Herod in its exaggeration of Verne's eccentricities. Mr. Fleming, the leading actor, presented a pretty good conception of the impassive Phileas Fogg, and, probably, when the rest of the company have learned their parts, they will be able to contribute somewhat to that illusion on which the success of dramatic representation usually depends. The members of the company who seemed to have the best conception of their parts were the darkies in breechclouts, who rolled barrels to and fro in the wharf scene at Suez, and judiciously abstained from speech. The setting of the piece was generally quite good, the last scene in the second act being especially fine. The play will be repeated this evening.

Fifth Avenue Comedy Theater.

Mr. Frank Jones, otherwise known as the "musical moke," appeared at this theater, last night, in the new play called "Black Hand." In the course of the piece he plays upon thirty-six different musical instruments. Sam. Ryan had a very amusing character, representing a would-be physician. The play is full of exciting incidents, was well put upon the stage and very well acted. The railroad scene, especially, was very exciting and life-like. A variety olio of much merit precedes the play. The bill will be repeated to-night.

The Juvenile Opera Company.

Concerning some of the performers in Mr. Zimmerman's juvenile opera company, which will begin an engagement at Library Hall on Tuesday evening next, the Washington Republican of a late date says:

> Last evening, at the National Theater, Nina Carmen U. y Moron sung the role of La Grande Duchesse of Geroistein, and Nina Guadalupe U. y Moron that of Wanda. The first is only eight and the latter but six years of age. There was something peculiarly impressive in their performance, something beyond the quick grasp of the listener, something requiring cool philosophy to explain. It filled a large and highly cultivated audience with an extraordinary enthusiasm, one that will last through the week. As an illustration of its absorbing character, one gentleman, a noted correspondent of the Eastern press, walked clear out into the vestibule of the theater bareheaded, having entirely forgotten his hat. One would be accused of extravagance at once if he should really tell, in terms, how delighted the audience seemed to be. At every point it was surprised with the dash, character and perfection of the performance. It set the gravest of people to thinking as to how so bright a star as Nina Carmen happened to fall on earth; for with her sister, Guadalupe, the "Pleiades" before their audience seemed to dance, "shedding sweet influence." We could not help wishing that Offenbach himself might see this beautiful and charming interpretation of his genius. She does, in her pretty way, all that Tostee, Irma or Aimee ever thought of, and with her it must be original. Of course, her voice is that of a child, but she handles it with rare skill, and in the sabre song she is more tricksy than her older sisters. Wanda's music, and Wanda's hopes and fears were most spiritedly rendered, and both Fritz and General Boam were ably represented. The choruses were prettily sung, and the marching and stage pictures were all happy and artistic. We most cordially commend the engagement to all patrons of art.

Trimble's Varieties Theater.

Large and delighted audiences are still the rule at Trimble's. A fine bill will be performed at the matinee this afternoon and also this evening.

The Bell Punch.

The bell punch was introduced, yesterday, on the Central Passenger Railway (Wylie and Centre avenues), much to the disgust of the stockholders and patrons of the line, who think the drivers had enough to do already in attending to their teams and collecting fares in the old way. Only two of the drivers refused to carry the punch—Arthur Savage and Joseph Mettler. Drivers are required to keep a register of five different kinds of tickets, one of them being for "deadheads"—employees of the company. The punches are not new ones, having been used previously and cast aside by some Eastern railroad. The prediction is ventured that the company will not be long in finding out that the "game is not worth the candle."

CITY MATTERS IN BRIEF.

THE Central Board of Education will meet this afternoon.

ON and after to-day, Mt. Washington will be supplied with water.

EVANS, the Brownstown prize fighter, deposited ten dollars for his appearance, and failed to appear.

W. HAMILTON, a tramp, was arrested about eleven o'clock last night, by Officer Coulson, in the act of breaking into a barn in the East End.

THE Fourth ward, Allegheny, Minute Men will meet this evening at their headquarters, to take action in regard to the procession Thursday night.

THE Young People's Temperance Society of the Sandusky street Baptist church, Allegheny, will hold their regular monthly meeting this evening. All are invited.

A SNEAK THIEF stole an overcoat from the residence of Mr. Carr, on Penn avenue, last night. He was arrested soon afterward by Officer Mike Mulvany, with the coat in his possession.

J. KLEMM, of the Adrienne Boat Club, desires to row a two-mile race in sculls or working boats, with Adam Wendell—the race to be rowed on the Allegheny course, for a purse of $100.

MR. JAMES HOPKINS, for some time telegraph operator at the Union Depot, has been appointed to a position in the fire alarm office vice Mr. Walter S. Muse, who has been obliged to retire by reason of failing health.

THE Wheeling Intelligencer of Monday says: Billy Scharff, the Pittsburgh oarsman, on Saturday evening sprained an ankle while showing his agility by jumping over a companion. Billy spent yesterday in his bed.

THE miners employed at the Carondelet works in the Fourth Pool, on the Monongahela river, concluded to accept the situation, and yesterday morning went to work at the terms offered by their employers, two cents per bushel.

THE annual target excursion of Co. A, Duquesne Greys, takes place to-day. The excursion train leaves the depot of the P. V. & C. Railroad, corner of Fourth avenue and Try street, at 11 A. M., for the grounds of Col. Henry B. Hays.

THE alarm of fire yesterday morning from box 35 was occasioned by fire at a dwelling house on Wilson street, near Wylie. A large fire had been made in a grate, and the flames communicating to a wooden mantel, threatened to destroy the structure. They were extinguished before any serious damage was done.

PATRICK HUGHES was assaulted in an alley in Hardscrabble, about twelve o'clock yesterday, by Wm. Lewis who attempted to take a valuable gold watch from him, when a stranger coming along rescued him. Hughes has entered information against Lewis before Squire Milliken for larceny from the person.

MR. JOHN H. GLASS, of the firm of Holmes, Lafferty, Glass & Co., live stock dealers in the Central Yards, East Liberty, who has been absent on a western tour for the past three months, reached home yesterday. He says he had two objects in view in his trip, one, to find the line of the "Far West," and the other to negotiate for the purchase of the Black Hills. The former, he says, is a myth, as there is no termination to the Far West. But as to the Black Hills, he assures us that although sun-bleached and disguised, the great chief Ocheneoko-Kocaneoho-Kakajh-Kahajh-Dungo, demurred to letting him have a share in the hills, asserting that he (Glass) was not more than a half-breed. He is now at home and thinks there is no end to the Far West, and don't believe there is much gold in the Black Hills. He is greatly improved in health, and visited during his absence Missouri, Minnesota, Kansas, Nebraska, Colorado, etc.

Then followed Captain Evans' Hartranft Club, the Invincibles and the Thirty-second ward company, commanded by Captain Joel Bigham. The last named companies made their first appearance and did credit to themselves.

308,000 ACRES
Valuable Lands,
IN KANSAS.

By direction of the Honorable Secretary of the Interior, the undersigned will receive sealed bids for the purchase of any or all of the unsold Lands west of the Neosho river, along the southern line of the State of Kansas embraced within what is generally known as the "CHEROKEE STRIP."

These Lands are offered for sale in compliance with the provisions of an act of Congress approved May 11, 1872 [U. S. Statutes at Large, vol. xvii, pp. 98 and 99].

They will be sold to the highest bidder for cash, in quantities not exceeding One Hundred and Sixty Acres at not less than Two Dollars per acre for all of said Lands lying east of the Arkansas river, and One Dollar and Fifty Cents per acre for such Lands as lie west of said river.

Printed lists, describing the Lands hereby offered for sale by their proper legal subdivisions and indicating the minimum price at which each tract is held, will be sent by mail to the address of any person making application therefor to the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or to the Register and Receiver of the local offices at Wichita and Independence, Kansas.

Persons offering to purchase may bid for as many tracts as they may desire, but each bid must be separately made and sealed, and must be for not more than One Hundred and Sixty Acres (and conform to the legal subdivisions embraced in the list).

Bids must be accompanied by 10 per cent. of the amount bid as a guarantee of the good faith of the bidder, which sum, in case the Land is awarded and the balance not paid, will be forfeited. Should any bid be rejected, the sum deposited will be returned to the proper party.

Parties whose bids are accepted will be notified of such acceptance as soon after the opening of the bids as practicable, and if within forty days after such notice has been duly mailed payment in full be not made to the Commissioner of the General Land Office of the amount bid, the Land upon which such bid was made will be again subject to sale.

The 10 per cent. deposit required to accompany bids may be remitted in Postoffice orders, certificates of deposit, certified checks on some Government depository, payable to the order of the Commissioner of the General Land Office, or in currency.

The right to reject any and all bids is expressly reserved.

All bids must be sealed and addressed to the "Commissioner of the General Land Office, Washington, D. C.," and indorsed "Bids for Cherokee Strip Lands."

Bids will be received as above invited until 12 o'clock noon of the THIRTIETH DAY OF NOVEMBER, 1875, after which they will be duly opened and acted upon.
